

BULLET FRED FROM GUN MADE ABROAD

Experts Testify in Trial of Labor Leaders for Murder of Anna Lopizzo.

STATE TO REST TODAY

Pamphlet Written by Vincent St. John Put in Evidence and Read to Jury.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 31.—That the bullet which ended the life of Anna Lopizzo was of foreign make and could not have been fired from a revolver of American manufacture; that Joseph Caruso confessed to a detective whom he thought a friend, that he stabbed a policeman during the same riot, and that officials of the Industrial Workers of the World "advised violence and disregard of law," in industrial disputes were features in the closing testimony offered by the commonwealth today in the trial of Ettore Giovanniotti and Caruso for the Lopizzo murder.

Though the commonwealth did not rest its case, District Attorney Atwill declared he had no more witnesses, and court adjourned for the day while the prosecutor was reading to the jury a pamphlet alleged to have been written by Vincent St. John of Chicago, general secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Admitted in Evidence.

This pamphlet, which was found at the Lawrence strike headquarters, was admitted in evidence by Judge Quinn under objection by the defense.

It outlined the history of the Industrial Workers of the World, its aims and methods. Its presentation to the jury will be completed tomorrow, when the commonwealth will close. In the pamphlet, the commonwealth maintains, as advice to workers to disregard the law. In the preamble to the constitution of the organization read to the jury, it was set forth that "the basic principle makes the Industrial Workers of the World a fighting organization."

Bullet Made Abroad.

Captain W. H. Proctor of the Massachusetts district police, and two experts on cartridges and revolvers, gave testimony that the bullet wound in Anna Lopizzo's body was of foreign manufacture, and that Captain Proctor was the only type of revolver he was able to discover which fired the kind of a bullet was a No. 9 Italian revolver.

Louis Lacourt, an Italian detective, testified that he worked himself into the good graces of Caruso after the Lopizzo killing, and declared the defendant had told him he "stuck a knife into a big fat policeman" during the riot of January 29. This was the day that Policeman Benoit was stabbed and the Lopizzo woman shot.

And His Stomach Is All Right

Thousands With Poor Teeth Have Good Digestion by Using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets After Meals. Whether or not we eat too much, is a matter for individual judgment. Benjamin Franklin tried the experiment of living on a handful of raisins. But he discovered that the quantity wasn't what he ate nor the quantity thereof, but one of digestion and assimilation. The normal person eats heartily, and with deep enjoyment. This is because his mind doesn't anticipate stomach trouble. And if he does have an attack of sour stomach or indigestion he knows that the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give quick relief.

A Gentleman of the "Old School" Who Keeps Up With the Times.

Many people have poor teeth, weak gums, sore teeth and other bothersome troubles that prevent a vigorous manifestation of food. And instead of eating soft, mushy food that palls on the appetite they go in for those savory dishes, the very odor of which starts the saliva and makes the stomach fairly revel with anticipation.

This is but a natural condition. Anything else borders upon the indigestion which fosters indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. It may be safely said that it should not be a question of diet or kind of food or teeth or even any of the reflexes which are supposed to have their influence in deranging the stomach. It is simply a matter of supplying the stomach and digestive organs with those known assistants such as pepsin, and hydrochloric acid, both of which have a direct and powerful action upon the contents of the stomach.

One grain of a single ingredient in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3000 grains of food. This saves your stomach and gives it the rest it needs. All muscles require occasional rest if they are ever over-taxed. There is no exception to this rule.

Try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and you will wonder how you ever got along without them. They are sold at 20 cents by all druggists everywhere. (Advertisement.)

NOTICE

Deaths from kidney disease have frightfully increased—now approaching 90,000 a year. If this is to be changed people should know— That kidney trouble is INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS and that when it becomes chronic it is declared incurable. 2. Prof. Tyson says the incurable stage is established about the sixth month. Hence no part of that six months ought to be wasted. 3. Treatment of inflamed kidneys by excipients has broken down—Prof. Tyson declaring with reference to agents to restore the normal condition of the kidneys, "I believe there are none," which cuts out at once a whole class of kidney medicines on druggists' shelves. 4. That these conditions give rise to a search for something to palliate instead of excite inflamed kidneys. 5. That as the result of those researches a bland infusion was worked out that reduces inflamed kidney tissues and that many cases now respond whether in the chronic stage or not. Schramm-Johnson, Drugs, is the only drug store in your city that is authorized to sell the new kidney palliative, Fulton's Renal Compound. Ask for pamphlet. (Advertisement.)

CLAIMS PRIVILEGE AS LEGAL ADVISER

Attorney Refuses to Answer Questions Concerning the Harvester Trust.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Declaring that information which came to him in his capacity as an attorney is confidential and privileged under the ruling of the courts, Cyrus Bentley, former counsel for the McCormick Harvester company, today declined to answer questions regarding conferences held in New York prior to the organization of the International Harvester company when called as a witness in the government dissolution suit. Counsel for the government put a score of questions to the witness regarding the visit made by members of the McCormick family to New York to confer with financiers concerning the combination of harvester manufacturers, but Mr. Bentley declined to reveal any secrets. Attorney Edwin F. Grosvenor, who questioned the witness for the government, pointed out that his understanding of the rule was that where a third person was present with an attorney and his client the subject could not be considered confidential and privileged. "That may be true, but I do not understand it that way," said Mr. Bentley.

After further discussion the witness said he was not present at the meeting in New York July 25, 1902, when preliminary steps for the organization of the International Harvester company were taken. He was then excused and when William Reay, controller for the International Harvester company, produced the appraisals of the plants of the McCormick, Deering, Plano and Milwaukee companies, used in determining the value of the properties when the consolidation was put into effect in 1902, they were offered in evidence.

E. N. Wood, secretary of the International Harvester Company of America, the sales corporation for the alleged combination, was called to identify numerous catalogues and price lists sent out to agents between 1903 and 1911 to show that the different lines of machines bearing trademarks were advertised separately and that standard prices were maintained.

The present hearing in Chicago, it is expected, will be concluded tomorrow. The next hearing of the case will be held at St. Paul early in November.

AMUSEMENTS

ORPHEUM THEATER—Advanced vaudeville. Performances every afternoon and evening.

EMPEROR THEATER—Sullivan-Considine vaudeville. Matinee daily at 2:30. Two evening performances, 7:30 and 9:15.

COLONIAL THEATER—"Zira," emotional drama. All the week. Matinee Saturday.

The following theater notices are marked "Advertisement" in order to comply with a strict interpretation of the new federal newspaper law. It is so stated on the advertisements. They are items furnished by the press agents of the various theaters.

TONIGHT is the regular society night at the Orpheum where this week the excellent bill is drawing big crowds despite the bad weather. McIntyre and Hart—pretty Miss Joe and her tearful—come dangerously near being headliners this week in an act that is somewhat out of the beaten track. Joe is a very charming young lady who sings sweetly. And Hart has a wonderful mellifluous voice that makes even such a funny song as "I Love Them All" serious. Mr. Hart is perhaps the funniest fat man that has come to the Orpheum in years.

Interest at the Colonial is already centering on the production there next week beginning next Sunday night of Henri Bernstein's drama, "The Thief," in which Maxine Hillington will first be seen in Salt Lake. Miss Countess believes the production will be one of the biggest features of the season at the Colonial. "Zira," which is being produced with such success this week, closes at the Colonial with Saturday night's performance.

Six beautiful girls loom as the head-line attraction of the big anniversary bill at the Empress this week. The production is the most gorgeous one appearing at the Empress since the opening of the theater, the electrical effects wonderful and amazing, while the scenic effects border on the spectacular. Miss Gertrude Dee Roches is the most prominent figure of which vaudeville boasts. She is as pretty as she is clever and as graceful as she is shapely. Her own story of the turning of the tide which are the envy of every woman that sees them.

Valeska Suratt, heralded as the present-day queen of beauty, in the year-and-a-half "New York Casino" musical success, "The Kiss Waltz," which is called the danciest show ever seen at this theater, will be the attraction at the Salt Lake theater Monday next, when the management sends the piece here with the original scenic and costume detail. The music is by Ziegler, composer of "Mlle. Mischief," the only other work which has been heard in this country.

A delightful three-reel surprise awaits Mehese patrons today in a play adapted from Owen Meredith's narrative poem, published a half century ago, but seemingly destined to live forever. "Lionel" is a veritable restoration of a masterpiece, such delicateness in finish and completeness of detail as were reproduced by Thackeray, that it might have been justly called a labor of love. This picturesque story of love, jealousy, adventure, ambition and battle, requires three reels for its reproduction. Don Churchill, the comedian with the UNITED SURETY COMPANY RECEIVERSHIP.

Thomas H. Bowles et al vs. United Surety Company, et al in the Circuit Court of Baltimore City. Upon the petition of the receivers filed in this case, to be held on the 21st day of October, in the year nineteen hundred and twelve, by the circuit court of Baltimore city, adjudge and ordered: 1. That February 25, 1912, is hereby fixed as the final day for the filing of claims in these proceedings, by the bond holders, policy holders and creditors of the United Surety Company; and only claims filed on or before said day shall be admissible in any distribution of the assets of the company to be made to the creditors by the receivers. 2. That no default under any outstanding bond or guarantee of said company of any character occurring after the 21st day of January, 1912, shall give rise to a provable claim in any distribution of the assets of the company to be made to the creditors by the receivers. 3. That the holders of outstanding bonds and guarantees under which claims for loss is made, be and they are hereby authorized to file claims against the company for the amount of loss arising from such bonds and guarantees, at the prevailing rates, for the unexpired premium. 4. If the holders of bonds guaranteeing the maintenance of construction or other work for a fixed period are unable to procure substitute bonds on such terms, they may claim under the provisions of paragraph 4 hereof. 5. That the holders of outstanding bonds and guarantees under which claims for loss is made, but such claim is unliquidated or not definitely ascertained, and they are hereby authorized to file for the penalty of the bond, in order that their claims may be subsequently considered, if and when the same are definitely established. 6. That the receivers cause a copy of this order to be published at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to November 15, 1912, in a newspaper of general circulation in each state wherein the United Surety Company was engaged in business. Said receivers shall also mail printed copies of this order to all creditors of said company, and to the holders of its bonds, policies and guarantees, and to the beneficiary thereof so far as the addresses of said creditors and holders and beneficiaries are ascertainable from the company's books; also to the courts in each state wherein the United Surety Company was engaged under the direction and subject to the approval of said courts; but the non-receipt of such printed copy shall not affect the validity of this order. CHAS. W. HULLSTEN.

State of Maryland, city of Baltimore.—I, William M. Carson, clerk of the circuit court of Baltimore city, do hereby certify that the above is a true copy of the original order now on file in this office in the case therein entitled Thomas H. Bowles, et al vs. United Surety Company, et al. In testimony whereof, I have set my hand and affixed the seal of the said circuit court, this 21st day of October, 1912. W. M. CARSON, Clerk. 41578
